

NOTE FROM HARBORMASTER

Dear Tenants,

This months reminders:

- ◆ Make sure you check on your boats a few times during the winter. It could prevent major problems down the road
- ◆ For those visiting the marina during this time of year, even though the parking lot is somewhat empty, please be aware of the speed limit. We have noticed cars traveling too fast around the parking lot.
- ◆ Make sure you have not left any type of food on your boat. If you do, you might get a visit from critters. Mainly raccoons which can cause a lot of damage to your outside boat seats.
- ◆ WINTER HOURS Tuesday—Sunday 9 to 5
- ◆ CLOSED December 25—January 2

Have a safe and Happy Christmas and New Year!

See you soon,

James Bisch

A monthly profile of Concord boaters

Meet Captain: Dana Dorcus

BOAT NAME: Paradise N 3D

DOCK: A

FAVORITE PART ABOUT THIS BOAT: speed for its size, tops out at 50mph!

DREAM BOAT: 60' Sea Ray

BEST PART ABOUT BOATING: parties with friends and relaxing with Danieila

Boating has been a passion of mine since the early 90's. My wife passed away of breast cancer in the early 90's so I had to find a way to balance activities with my kids. Water activities seem to be the balance I needed.

So in 1993 I purchased my first runabout and off we went. About every 3 years I began to upgrade to a larger size boat. Starting with a 17' ft boat in 1993 and growing to my current boat which is a 31' Cabrio cruiser. The folks on the docks tease me because they see me cleaning my boat as much as I head for open water to enjoy the sun and to socialize with my friends.

I moved to Knoxville in 2006 to take on a new role with my company. I work for U.S. Cellular® as Director of sales for the East region which cover Tennessee to New England. I been with the company for 19 years and love what I do, serving customers and providing a great wireless experience. I have two boys, Dana and Phillip. Dana lives in Chicago and Phillip's here with me attending school. Besides boating, I love to golf, travel (vacation) and cook.

From Concord Marina to the Great Loop

Terry and Tracy's big boating adventure

Here is another excerpt from Terry and Tracy's blog

12/1— Ft. Meyers, FL

Approaching Ft. Meyers

We're going to spend Christmas in Ft. Myers with my parents, Ben, Stephanie, Matt and Mary. Then we're going home for a few weeks in January. After that, it's back to Florida to take the boat all over southern Florida. No more blogs until then.....

Merry Christmas!!!!

To read more and track their journey, visit their blog page at www.skifishfly.com/greatloop/

11/29—Lake Okeechobee, FI

If it had been a sunny day, I bet we would have seen alligators galore. But since it was early in the morning and cloudy the alligators were nowhere to be found. When I asked Terry where he thought all the alligators were, he said they were probably out eating bunnies and little dogs. See what I've had to put up with for the last three and a half months?!?

Our travels started off barren and swampy.

We passed orange grove after orange grove.

“Tennessee Navy” frozen In

So how cold do you think it will get this winter? Hopefully not as cold as February 1977 as described in the Knoxville News Sentinel. Thanks to Charles and Edna Seiver for the article. Brrrrrrrr!

The extended period of sub-freezing temperatures that has plagued the Knoxville area for weeks has resulted in some unusual circumstances at area lakes. This Concord Boat Dock area (top) off Fort Loudoun Lake is completely frozen over – a circumstance many old timers say is a first. About a dozen of the unofficial “Tennessee Navy” (a term given many boaters who use their craft to get to Neyland Stadium football games) are now locked in by ice. The area frozen at the Concord Dock is more than a mile wide. At the Duncan Boat Dock on Fort Loudoun Lake (bottom) a workman helping tear down an old boat house found a shortcut across the frozen inlet. The worker carried the heavy wood across the lake instead of walking around it.
